SUSPENSION OF SPECIE PAYMENTS.—The crisi

New York, Oct. 7, 1839.

OUSPENSION OF SPECIE. PAYMENTS.—The crisis of has now arrived to tes: the merits of the cash system, for however flattering the credit system may appear on paper; its effects upon individuals often prove ruinous in the extreme. In London and Paris, the consumers have set their face against it and consequently, a number of establishments have prung up of late years that do a cash business only. This has been termed by some the European system, and has but recently been introduced into New York.

FHILLIPS, of 106 William street, does not claim for kimself the honor of its introduction, but he dees believe that he carries it out to a greater extent than any of his rivals. Fer instance, they content themselves with purchasing for cash of the jobbers, how he remits funds to Europe, to buy of the manufacturers direct, thereby avoiding all those accumulated profits which enhance the value of articles before they reach the customer. The extensive patronage he has been homored with, must be a sufficient voucher of public opinion, as to the way he carries out his assertion of producing a first rate garment, cut in a superior style and made by none but the most finished workmen. He effects a saving of 38 per cent on the prices charged by houses who profess to furnish the best goods, and he does this notwithstanding the succeriority of his style and elegance of his garments. Phillips will also warrant his coats to be equal to any mode in Broadway, and he considers them the fairest standard by which a comparision can be instituted.

N. B.—Ail goods paid for on denvery, and no gentleman expected to take any garments when any reasonable objection exists. A call solicited at 106 William corner of John street.

ON CERTAIN DELICATE DISEASES

ON CERTAIN DELICATE DISEASES.

D. R. RALPH, author of The Private Treatise continues to be consulted as heretofore at his residence, 23 Courtland's street, and may be seen at any lour.

P. S. Aware of the general opinion entertained of that class of persons who obtrade their skill and remedies upon the public in these diseases, (multitudes of whom are seen in almost every paper), I consider it a duty to give the following statesment as the ground on which I might expect especial confinence.— Beside the rank I hold as Graduate of Edinourgh, and Member of the Hoyal College, Londo. See, as well as being the author of a work expressly on the diseases here alluded to I have also testimonial letters from the most eminent physicians in Europe, to the most eminent in America.— and which letters may be seen by any one who wishes it.

If and it has been a matter of surprise to some, that any one of rank and eminence in his profession s ould devote his talents to a disease which persons of every description pretend to care so easily. If, however, but one thousandth pert of the miseries these people bring upon society were known, a very different opinion would be formed. And till, it is not only the present misery amblejection, preying on the mind as well as body, that is depilical, for many of them are of suck a nature as to affect posteries, if not indeed, to destroy the generative function altogethers. It is a fact, that both Venereal and Gonforthea, when not properly treated, may remain so dormand in the constitution, 5-to show themselves in no other way than in their effects upon posterity.

With regard to the more immediate train, of evils, penhapmothing proves a more fruitful source of fless, than the practice of advertising a bottle of drops, or a box is pills for the induscriminate cure of these complaints. Now, supposing ever these remedies were good, such are the various symptoms which continually arise in any case, and so essentially do these discesses differ one from another, that common sense must tell that w were neither one nor the other, but were totally different and innocent disorders.

But of all the cases which more painfully 'arrass the mind, and afford the finest field for knavery, is that of Structurac.—Here the poor patient is obliged to pay for pills or drops month after month. Sometimes the gleet attending this disorder may subside or disappear awhile, perhaps to return again on slight occasion; but whether the discharge return or not, he is none the better off. Now every real surgeon or physician knows that all the physic in the world, alone, would usee cure a stricture, and yet, if properly understood, it may most easily and speedily be removed. I do not scrupte to aftern that many strictures may be cured in as many days, as they had existed years before.

and speedily be removed. I do not scrupte to affirm that many strictures may be cured in as many days, as they had existed years before.

To anyone of common prudence, therefore, I would say if these remarks are just, (and I can appeal to the most eminent physicians of our city for their truth,) how important that every patient should know something of the character and talent of the person whom he is about to trust with such a case. For the convenience of those at a distance, as well as those who wish to treat their own cases in the most private and convenient manner. I have contrived a very little chest, with the Treatrise fitted in the i'd, and which contains every theory secessally for the cure of these complaints. That for gonorrhom, beside the medicine, contains also my Parent Pocket Syringe, with ingredients for making the injections, the price of which is $10; that for Venercal, containing more than enough for the cure of any ordinary case, is $10; and the chest, a little larger, containing wery thing necessary for the cure of both complaints, is $15.

With respect to the little patent Syringe, which I cannot here describe, no one who has not seen it can properly accredit its convenience and utility. Aud, indeed, with regard to the intrinsic value of the chest, so uniformly does it meet the most sanguine expectations, that I ergage, if in any case it fait to do so and is returned immediately, the price shall be instantly refineded.

Address, IOS. RALPH, Senr, M. D., 38 Courdland: street, New York.

New York.

A LL THE AFFLICTED READ THIS:::--PHYSICIANS A ALL A FARCE:::--DOCTOR MANTACCINI IS IN TO WN.--It has been said that the rext great discovery would be made by a fool. Let us see. A nameless German quack adventurer has preclaimed a new discovery, and with a flourishing coup de grace challenges the memory of all our departed physicians and the ability of our living ones. His Harlequip patched and shredded advertisement, original by stealth, is, like his discovery, a piece of impudent heobylem, and when his memory is known for its carriag effect, no one will dispute his grace of yet this bedlamite says that a certain disease. Truly thus is a discovery; but no matter, his is the age of improvement. If Dr. Mantaccini of Paris could raise the dead, Dr. nameless of New York can raise the devil, and until the people of well guilled, the imposition will be continued and the patient will have to do what he should have done before—consult a regular physician.

Those who prefer reality of practice to romance of profession will do well to call at the office of Doctor Gerardan, and to 176 William street, where a perfect cure is warranted of delicate diseases in their various stages.

CHARLES COX Tailor and Draper, best leave respect moved from the Astor House, Broadway. to the corner of Fulton and Nassau streets (the sign of the Golden Fleece), where he intends to centiaue the business on his original Cash System, and from his increased facilities of obtaining the best and CONSUMPTION CAN BE CURED:—If taken in due season, I firmly believe this disease can be cured.—My family were all consumptive, and myself was not expected to live long, for I was very deficate and infirm. Yet I used 'Dr. Taylor's Balsam of Liverwort," at an early period of my disease, and I found my lungs daily growing more strong. I could bear more fettigue and breathe with greater case. My backing cough ceased, I grew fleshy, and I am now in excellent health. I believe this medicine will save thousands. But it is very important to use the genuine. Sold at 378 Bowery.
